

NETWORKS

UTC'S CONNECTED COMMUNITY

NetWorks is more than a website, it's a professional networking and business information tool designed to connect UTC members, and staff. Gain instant access to industry and association news, quickly and easily connect with other members, participate in Open Forum discussions with members and non-members, discuss advocacy and governance work, and much more. In short, NetWorks provides the Association with an unprecedented opportunity to reach new heights and ultimately to be of greater service to its members.

Getting Started

1. From networks.utc.org, create a new account or login to your existing account.
2. Complete your profile with your professional and personal interests, accomplishments and contact information.
3. Utilize the toolbar to navigate NetWorks and browse through the different functions and features.
4. Read through the FAQ's listed under "Help"
5. Contact support@utc.org for additional help setting up your account.

Communities

- Communities are groups that allow you to share common interests with other NetWorks members.
- Within each community there are discussions where you can network and converse with your peers or ask and answer questions.
- Engage with top industry professionals, learn from their experiences or give the benefit of yours.
- Each community also has its own library. Share or download files that are relevant to the community.

Libraries

Libraries are a repository for files and collateral. Networks has two types of libraries.

- Community Libraries are specific to each community and available only to members of that community. Community members can share files or download files from these libraries.
- Resource Libraries are available to all NetWorks users. They house UTC collateral, archived UTC event presentations, and archived webinars.
